Mars Landing

One of the most outstanding achievements of the year was the landing of an American spacecraft on the planet Mars. The successful touchdown of Viking I took place on July 20. Instruments on the unmanned lander indicated the presence of nitrogen and argon. There is three per cent nitrogen in the atmosphere, a gas essential to life. Scientists agree that Mars at some time had all the ingredients necessary for life. And the possibility exists that Mars may be supporting some form of life at present. Color photos flashed back to earth show the landscape to be rust-red and the sky, a pinkish color. Photos also reveal sand dunes and scattered rocks like those found in the deserts of Arizona and Utah. To detect microscopic life, the Viking I used a ten-foot arm to scoop up soil samples.

Mark "The Bird" Fidrych

Mark Fidrych is the 21-year-old star pitcher of the Detroit Tigers. He is nick-named "The Bird" by Detroit fans for his gangly curlyhaired appearance that resembles SESAME STREET'S Big Bird. He won nine of his first ten games and has a 19-9 record with the fifth-place Tigers. Fidrych's antics of talking to the ball, manicuring the pitcher's mound on his hands and knees, and encouraging his fielders have made him an overnight legend. At the end of each baseball game, his fans often will not leave until he returns for a curtain call. Mark Fidrych was named the 1976 American League Rookie of the Year by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Election '76

In a close race for the presidency, former Georgia governor, Jimmy Carter, upset Gerald Ford and won the nation's highest office. Carter, a peanut farmer from Plains, Georgia, was declared the winner when his electoral vote total reached 272, two more than is needed for election. Ford was the first incumbent who was denied a new term since Herbert Hoover was removed from office in 1932. Desiring a change in Washington, voters overcame their doubts about Carter and their respect for Ford's experience in office. Carter's strength came from the traditional Democratic Party union of Old South and industrial North. He drew strong support from the lower income groups, labor union members, blacks, and the less educated. James Earl Carter Jr. will take the oath as the 39th president of the United States on January 20, 1977. Minnesota senator, Walter F. Mondale, will begin his term as vice-president.

Nadia

Nadia Commaneci was the star attraction of the summer Olympics held in Montreal this year. She was the first Olympian ever to achieve a perfect score of 10 in the uneven parallel bars. After receiving the score, Nadia reacted by saying: "I knew it was a 10 all the way." A 14-year-old from Rumania, she is the daughter of an auto mechanic father and an office worker mother. The five-foot-tall, 86-pound Commaneci did not do as well on the horse; she tied for fourth. Nadia scored seven 10's and won three gold medals.

Student Council

Hemlock High School Student Council has been very active this year. They began the year by holding freshman officer elections. Then on October 4, an assembly was held in the gym. CAMPUS LIFE presented "Reflections Unlimited," a popular music group. The students really enjoyed this assembly. Student Council also sponsored a dance. "Octave Entertainment" of St. Louis, Michigan, was featured. It was a disco and psychedelic light dance. It went over quite well with the students. The jukebox was reinstated as a result of Student Council's efforts. Speakers were put in the student center, too. The Student Council bought the three foreign exchange students class rings as a friendly gesture among our cultures. The Homecoming Parade and the election of king and queen are Student Council activities. They also collected money for the UNITED WAY. This amounted to a sizable donation when Student Council matched this amount with their own funds. With the arrival of the basketball season, Student Council purchased a new popcorn machine to replace the old one. They are in charge of the concession stand during basketball season. In the spring, they sponsored a donkey basketball game. Throughout the school year, Student Council has been very busy.

Homecoming Parade

The Homecoming Parade is put on yearly by the Hemlock High School Student Council. It is no easy job to coordinate this event. The parade started at 6:00 p. m. at the high school and followed a route around the blocks bounded by Wilson, Cherry, Thomas, and Elm Streets. Many groups were represented: the Hemlock/Merrill Veterans of Foreign Wars Color Guard Unit, Hemlock High School and Middle School Marching Bands, Girl and Brownie Scouts, Cub Scouts, six floats, and a patrol unit of the Richland Township Police. Grand Marshal of the parade was Student Council President John Marko. The floats were judged by faculty members of the Hemlock schools: Miss Carmen Kossayda, Mr. Dennis Hogan, Mrs. Janet Johnson, Mrs. Bea Wallace, and Mrs. Kathy Agresta. The first place award went to the high school band float, second, to the Freshmen Class, and third, to the Junior Class. Cash awards of $25.00, $15.00, and $10.00, respectively, went to the winning floats. The band also received a trophy. The other float entries were by the Senior Class, the Sophomore Class, and the Hemlock Future Farmers of America. The Homecoming Parade was a smashing success this year. Everyone had a great time.

Homecoming was on October 29 this year. Activities got under way in the afternoon at a pep assembly. At that time the king and queen were announced by the student council president. This year's king was Tony Warner. His attendants were Bruce Bauer, Joe Ojczyk, and Hugo Gerber. An ecstatic Lori Kricher became queen. Her attendants were Denise Nuffer, Karen Boyd, and Sue Hingston. Homecoming court representatives were freshmen Kathleen Foye and Tim Foy, sophomores Brenda Gulliver and Steve Baumann, and juniors Diane Lynch and Mark Brown. The theme of Homecoming, chosen by the juniors, was "Photographs and Memories." Later in the evening at the football game, Queen Lori was crowned by last year's queen, Mary Allison. Lori was escorted by her father, Mr. Aaron Kricher. She was presented a bouquet of long-stemmed roses by Mr. Rolland Benford, director of personnel for the Hemlock schools. The Junior Class was in charge of the half-time ceremony, as well as the dance that followed the game. At the Homecoming Dance, which featured the band "Inner Visions," King Tony was presented with a mug. In keeping with the theme, the Junior Class invited the graduates from the Class of '71 to attend the Homecoming Dance.

"Reflections Unlimited"

On October 4, Student Council sponsored an assembly featuring a music group representing the CAMPUS LIFE division of Youth for Christ. The group, called "Reflections Unlimited," is made of young men and women who present music at its best. They share their Christian philosophies on life with their audiences. They are college students who take off one year of schooling to perform.

Huskie Stars Radiate

Huskies Shine On

Studying for economics tests, rehearsing for the play, working diligently on the yearbook, going on the senior trip--all of these are part of a student's life at Hemlock High School. Everybody has an area in which he excels, and many become known as "shining stars" of knowledge and ability. The administration--Board of Education, principals, counselors, etc.--plays a vital role in our education. Because of their direction, we at H.H.S. have a fine school to be proud of. The people who have the biggest influence on us are the teachers. We appreciate the tremendous job they do for us in class and in the direction of school activities. We should not forget the maintenance staff, for they keep things running smoothly. Extracurricular activities and organizations are very important to us. We have fun with our friends in many ways--cheering at ball games, boogieing down at dances, painting signs in pep club, practicing for cheerleading. Another important part of our lives here is working together as a class. Selling fund-raising goods, sponsoring dances, working in the concession stand--these will become lasting memories. At the end of our four years at H.H.S., hopefully all of our efforts will have been worthwhile, and we will have acquired a kaleidoscope of unforgettable memories.

The Board of Education's fiscal year starts on July 1 and runs to June 30 of the following year. At their first meeting election of officers is the main business at hand. This year all of the officers were re-elected to their positions. The Board meets regularly on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month in the Board of Education Office at the Administration Building. Their principal job is to set school policy, to direct the educational program, and to seek funds for the operation of the school district. The 1976-77 school budget is estimated at 2.8 million dollars. Through the Board's efforts, Hemlock High School has been accredited again by the University of Michigan. An election for additional operating millage was held this year, but was defeated by voters. So the Board has decided to operate on existing funds. They have also decided to place new lighting in the high school gymnasium and on the football field.

High School Administration

The high school administration has a very important role in keeping the school operating smoothly. The principal, Mr. Lawrence Baumann, is the chief administrator. He directly oversees the workings of the school. For this year Mr. Baumann made three goals that he hoped to accomplish. He wanted teachers to write their class objectives; he wanted to personally visit all classrooms; and he wanted to improve each department. Mr. Glenn Rick, the assistant principal, handles the attendance policy and the discipline of students. He is also the athletic director. Miss Maureen Murphy, Mr. Baumann's secretary, is constantly busy. Her main duty consists of answering high school correspondence. Mrs. Joan Rivard is Mr. Rick's secretary. Her main duty is keeping attendance records. The absence policy was made stricter this year, and many new programs were instituted. In the first semester the reading program went into full-time operation. In the second semester a new experimental course, Project Great, began under the direction of Mrs. Caroline Gruenburg. This class is designed for gifted and talented students.

Math/Science

A student may choose from a variety of mathematics and science courses to fulfill his one year requirement in each subject area. General math is designed to give students routine work to drill their computational skills. Geometry gives one a better understanding of the nature of mathematical systems. The Algebra I and II classes provide students with an understanding of the real number system. Trigonometry encompasses the study of basic sets, relation, and the six trigonometric functions. Calculus is intended to give students the necessary background for calculus at the college level. Computer programming includes both computer and calculator programming. General science is an introductory science class. Biology I covers general biological concepts, whereas Biology II deals mainly with chordate anatomy through dissection. Chemistry I topics consist of naming the elements, balancing equations and predicting reactions. The physics class includes the study of forces, sound, electricity, and other areas. Chemistry II is mainly devoted to lab exercises. Mr. Taylor's and Mr. West's advanced science classes attended Michigan State University's open house in the spring.

English

Three credits of English are required through four years of high school. Reading lab aids one to improve his reading skills. Practical English 9, 10, and 11 are geared to developing the reading and writing skills of students. English 9, standard freshman English, is divided into approximately one semester each of grammar and literature. English 10--literary foundations--is devoted to the study of literature forms. American thought and language is a survey of American literature from the colonial period to modern times (1950's). Basic composition is primarily concerned with writing ability. Creative writing covers the basis of composition. College English, a new class, is designed for the senior who plans to attend college; it covers such topics as precis writing and research papers. Contemporary literature deals with themes and trends in present day literature. The journalism class produces a school paper once a month. Speech class deals with researching, developing, and delivering speeches. Mass media is the study of communication. Mrs. Thering and Ms. Zarr took a group of students on an annual spring trip to Stratford, Ontario, to see a Shakespearean play.

Social Sciences

The graduation requirement in the social science area includes one semester each of age of majority, government, and economics and two semesters of American history. Age of majority is basically the study of the new rights and responsibilities of people reaching the legal age of 18 years. World history is a comprehensive study of world history beginning with pre-historic man and progressing up to the major civilizations of the world. American history is the study of our history from the age of exploration to the present day. For the poor reader, practical American history is offered. Government is a basic survey of the American governmental system. Economics deals with a macroeconomic overview of capitalism and also covers the roles of business, households, and government in the American marketplace. Senator Robert Young visited Hemlock High School on February 14 and spoke to several of the social science classes. German I is an introduction to the basic grammar underlying the language. The student attains correct spelling and ease in speaking German. German II is a continuation of the first year of German, but it places more emphasis on the spoken language. French I and II are taught primarily the same way as German I and II.

Fine Arts/Gym

Fine arts and physical education classes are necessary for the development of well-rounded individuals. Art I is a basic art course that touches the surface of the many different areas of art. Drawing and painting is an in-depth study in only those two areas. Commercial art is a basic course in the study of art as it is applied in business. The art students held two art exhibitions this year, one on December 10 and 11 and the other on April 1 and 2. They were held in conjunction with the junior and senior plays. The public was invited to attend. Music is also considered a fine art. It is divided into two sections, marching band and concert band. High school instrumentalists who perform at or above a ninth grade proficiency are eligible to be in either band. The Hemlock High School Band proudly maintains a tradition of continually striving for the highest standards of musical excellence. Both physical education (p. e. ) and health education are required classes. Boys' and girls' p. e. classes are generally much alike. Through the use of a variety of physical activities, p. e. tries to develop students mentally, physically, and socially. The basic objective of health education is to provide students with physical, mental, and social well being.

Vocational Arts

Special Ed./Home Ec.

Business, special education, and home economic classes teach students practical knowledge that will help them in their careers. Typing I hopes to develop basic typing skill in the student. Intermediate typing and advanced typing comprise the one year course of Typing II. General business enables a student to become better prepared as a future consumer and worker in our society. The business math class deals with familiarizing the student with mathematical fundamentals that are necessary for running a retail store. Marketing helps students to determine their occupational objectives. Accounting I revolves around the keeping of orderly records of financial activities. Accounting II is a course designed for students who desire employment as secretaries and general accounting clerks. The shorthand class teaches the Gregg Diamond Jubilee method of taking dictation. The steno-secretarial course trains students by using the latest office equipment. The special education program emphasizes the development of adequate personal, social, and physical competencies in the student. The classes taught are reading, writing, communication, math, and consumer education. Mr. Blain's students built a stand for the new popcorn machine this year. The area of home economics includes the classes foods and nutrition, home management, development, and general home economics.

Vocational Arts

Agriculture/Auto Mechanics

Agriculture, automotive, and industrial courses are designed mainly for mechanically-minded students. Plant science covers practices that will help grow better crops. Animal science concentrates on the care of all types of livestock. The conservation class is a study of natural resources. Horticulture students study landscapes and greenhouse plants. Farm management and vocational agriculture mechanic are also offered. Basic auto's objective is to cover all the components of the automobile. Engine tune-up and engine overhaul are two other classes. Auto body and Body Shop II are classes where students learn auto body construction. Introduction to Vocational Careers (I.V.C.) includes the areas of wood, metal, drafting, and agriculture. Wood I and II and Metal I and II are classes that allow students to construct useful objects from wood and metal. Technical illustration is another class offered. Mechanical drawing I and II require a student to draw various structures that will aid him in his later career. Architecture permits the student to design a house of his own idea.

Organizational Classes

The purposes of these "organizational" classes is to help a student prepare for his forthcoming career. The future teaching program is designed for juniors and seniors who have some interest in a career in the teaching field. The teachers try to vary the duties from day to day to give the cadet many kinds of experiences. To be a library aide, one must exhibit at least two characteristics--dependability and typing ability. The office aide program is designed to help prepare one to rise above the position of an ordinary stenographer. The Career Opportunities Center (C.O.C.) in Saginaw is a modern concept in occupational education. It offers training in valuable skills through a variety of courses. Shared time classes are vocational classes available at four schools other than Hemlock High School--Freeland, Merrill, Swan Valley, St. Charles--in two-hour blocks of time. Classes that are available for students include building trades, steno-clerical, nurses' aides, small engines, and welding. The counselors schedule these and C.O.C. classes individually with interested students.

Services

The services department is a very important part of our school system. The people who work in this area deserve great appreciation. If we did not have them, our school would not be what it is today. They keep the school running efficiently. The custodians' jobs are mainly to keep our school sparkling clean. They also do many other things, such as replacing broken glass in windows and doors, and unlocking doors for us. They also mow the lawn and remove snow in winter. The custodians' days are very long. Their job does not stop at 3:10, like ours, but they work as late as 11 and 12 o'clock at night. We depend upon them greatly. Mrs. Fiting, who is in charge of the canteen machines, helps us to get good food for our lunches. She returns money to us when we lose it in a machine. After all, no one likes to get gyped. The hall monitors make sure there are no disturbances in the halls. The bus drivers put in long days, too. Some get up in the morning as early as 5:00 a.m. Some may drive over 60 miles a day. The bus mechanics received a new bus garage a year ago. This garage was badly needed. Bus mechanics keep our buses going. The school board bought four new buses this year.

Class Of '80

The Freshman Class passed their first year in Hemlock High School with flying colors. Through the assistance of Miss Riba, the freshmen took a second place award for their Homecoming Parade float. They also put on a skit at the spirit assembly. A funeral for school spirit was the topic of their skit. In the skit the freshmen, with the help of the audience, successfully resurrected spirit. Spirit was personified as a cheerleader who jumped out of her coffin. The freshmen put on a fine performance. The Class of '80 helped clean up the area by selling waste paper baskets. They cleaned up on a tidy sum of money, too. The freshmen are destined to go on to bigger and better things that will, undoubtedly, far surpass their first year accomplishments. The Class of '80 has already gotten a good start on their way.

Class Of '79

The Sophomore Class sponsored a banana-eating contest on December 22 that was a tremendous success. Students were each charged a 25-cent admission fee to watch it. The competitors had to supply several sponsors in addition to paying a $1.00 fee. This contest not only helped in collecting money, but it also showed the student body who could eat the most bananas. The winners of the contest were Bill Beyersdorf, Dave Palmer, and Dan Redifer. The float that the sophomores entered in the Homecoming Parade, unfortunately, did not place, but they are confident that with the combined help of all they will take first place next year. The Class of '79 sold hats and scarves during the winter for $6.00 a set and $3.50 separately. The sophomores also performed a skit at the Spirit Assembly. Their's involved a game show in which the contestants were asked to define the word SPIRIT. The contestants consisted of a ghost, two drunks, and a group of cheerleaders-- junior varsity basketball players in disguise. This skit was, by far, one of the best. In the spring the sophomores sponsored the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance. They also co-sponsored a disco dance with Student Council on April 29.

Class Of '78

The Junior Class has traditionally sponsored the most activities of any class. This year was no exception. In the fall at football games the juniors sold fresh doughnuts and hot apple cider to shivering Huskie fans. The juniors organized the Homecoming Dance, too. They put on a one-act play in the winter and acted out a skit at the Spirit Assembly that was held in March. Their skit involved a courtroom scene in which a Swan Valley basketball player was tried for committing a foul--a double dribble. He was found guilty by the jury and sentenced to one lemon meringue pie-in-the-face. The Class of '78 held a disc jockey dance in January. In February the juniors sponsored a 'girl-ask-boy' dance that featured Suh--the band composed of Greg Awad, Jody Rutkiewicz, and Abe Awad. This year's juniors were ambitious fund-raisers. They undertook a popcorn-selling project to raise money toward their senior year trip. In a matter of three days they raised an astronomical $1,000. They also sold Huskie pennants. In May they were especially busy with the Junior/Senior Banquet and Prom.

Assemblies . . .

The Student Council brought four assemblies to the students. The first one featured 'Reflections Unlimited.' On March 4 the 'Spirit' Assembly was held. This assembly consisted of four skits presented by each of the classes. The theme of all of them was school spirit. The assembly concluded the school's 'Spirit' Week. At the assembly, the senior varsity basketball players defeated the faculty in a tug-of-war. A gymnastic assembly, featuring Dennis Harlan, was held on April 6. Mr. Harlan's witty sense of humor kept the audience roaring with laughter. With Mr. Harlan's help, Sue Oldenburg successfully performed a backward flip on the trampoline. Another assistant of the gymnast's was Mr. Taylor. He was secretly set up in advance to be a participant by John Marko. The gymnast terrified Mr. Taylor by somersaulting over his head. A climax to the school year was an assembly on May 24 with hypnotist Dr. Irwin Ross. Dr. Ross hypnotized seven students and had them experience coldness, hotness, a sad movie, a happy movie, and their fourth birthday. He also transformed John Briggs into Elvis Presley, Tim Buckley into Tiny Tim, and Dwight Haag and Jill Lynn into a new singing group called 'The Blemishes.'

John Briggs, as Elvis Presley, warmly greets Dr. Ross. 10. Mr. Harlan helps Sue Oldenburg amaze everyone by doing a backward flip.

Activities . . .

"Spirit" Week was conceived by the Student Council this year. They tried to get everyone involved by offering $5.00 prizes to the people who most actively participated. The judges were Mrs. Haven and Mrs. Sherman. The winner for Monday's "Bundle Up" Day was Brenda Dwenger. A tie for Tuesday's "Hat and Tie" Day was between Scott Dempsey and Kerri Walter. Beth Anne Hawrot won for "50's" Day, Wednesday. With a total of 39 apples, Mrs. Dunkle won for Thursday's "Give Your Teacher an Apple" Day. The "Huskie Blue and White" Day winner was Chris Oravitz for painting his face blue and white. A new annual award was created this year, the "Most Spirited Huskie" Award. Steve Root won this award plus a digital clock radio. Also, Mr. Guy Staples, a student teacher, received an honorable mention for his participation. The donkey basketball game, on March 29, was also a Student Council activity. The first game pitted the boys' varsity basketball team against the girls. The boys won, 16 to 12. The second game placed the faculty against the senior pom pon girls and varsity cheerleaders. The girls won, 12 to 10. A huge turnout by Huskie fans proved that Hemlock still has spirit.

Dances . . .

Under current rules, Hemlock High School is permitted one dance per month. The reason for this is simple: Larger crowds turn out when dances are not so frequent. The first dance of the year, sponsored by the cheerleaders, was a record dance. Prutti, from WHNN, served as the dance's disc jockey. In November the Student Council brought Octave Entertainment's disco and light dance to Hemlock. In December the Senior Class hired two professional disc jockeys from Midland, the "SJS DeeJays" to provide disco and rock'n'roll entertainment. The Junior Class sponsored two dances: In January they hired a disc jockey from WHNN to supply music, and in February they had local band Suhn perform at the middle school. The Sophomore Class put on the annual "Sadie Hawkins" Dance in March. In featured the band "Giggles". The last dance of the year, except for Prom, was co-sponsored by the Sophomore Class and the Student Council. It featured Octave Entertainment of St. Louis. Four chaperones are required for each dance: two teachers and two parents. Rarely does a dance ever have this ideal combination. Dances are one of the most enjoyable social activities in the high school. Everybody always has a great time.

Junior Play

On December 10 and 11 the Junior Class enacted "The Pampered Darling," a one-act comedy by Beatrice McNeil. Little brother Victor Gibbons (Jim Oldenburg), aged 14, resents his sisters, Connie (Brenda Roggow) and Janet (Diane Lynch), for planning to leave him behind when they go on a week-end party. He writes a note saying that he has gone deaf and dumb. His sister Janet's boy friend, Norman Evans (John Guettler), a young medical student, performs an "operation" on Victor that restores him to normal in a hurry. Girl friends of the Gibbon sisters are Joy Gaylord (Robin Griffith), Jessica Bacon (Cindy Fritzler), and Annabelle Green (Jenny Nowak). Dr. Rudolph Von Hapsburg (John Pankow), a friend of Norman's, agrees to pose as a doctor in order to meet Connie. The Gibbons' matronly maid is Mrs. Perkins (Deann Howe). Dudley Field (Pat Wildermuth) and Floyd Davis (Tim Dempsey) are family friends. After the play the cast presented their director, Mrs. Sobieski, with a beautiful centerpiece. Student director of the play was Kris Bell. An art exhibit was held in conjunction with this play.

Senior Play

On April 1 and 2 the Senior Class enacted "Grandad Goes Wild," a three-act farce by Felicia Metcalfe. Twelve people are forced to spend the night in the house of Mrs. Morton (Kerri Walter) and her father (Lester Chaffin). Their maid, Angie (Lori Kricher), is an uneducated girl. Betty Shadduck (Sharon Gulliver) thinks the boy next door, Jack Norwood (John Marko), is pretty special. Miss Drusilla Dobbins (Terri Hutfilz) and her two wards, Kip Shadduck (Randy Ryder) and Jane Woods (Sue Oldenburg), arrive unexpectedly when a freak storm blows off their roof. Just as unexpectedly is the arrival of pompous Mrs. Victoria Harrington (Beth Szabo) and her daughter Della (Lela Mulvaney). Grandad gets into mischief when he makes friends with Hooley (Harold Thorington), a young tramp who is anxious to sell a "rat trap" to Grandad. Police officer Grogan (Kevin Albosta) finds Hooley and informs everyone that they have to remain in the house for two weeks because of a small pox outbreak among tramps. After the play the cast presented an engraved silver platter to their director, Mrs. Sobieski. During the play's intermission, an art exhibit was held.

9. Michelle Gascoyne takes a break from the play to view the art exhibit.
10. Randy and Sue topple a chair as they playfully fight.

Prom . . .

"One Enchanted Evening" was the theme of Prom, which was presented on May 21 by the Junior Class. The band "Fantasia" performed from 8:30 P.M. until 12:00 A.M. Honored guests of this gala event were Mr. and Mrs. Gariglio, Mr. and Mrs. Baumann, Mr. and Mrs. Rick, and the parents of the Junior and Senior Class officers. A beautiful water fountain placed in the center of the gym added a romantic touch to the Prom. A medium-sized crowd showed up for Prom. Barry Rankin, from Wolff Studios, was on hand to capture the magic of this enchanted night by taking couples' pictures. Prom was a success due to the combined efforts of Mr. Adams and Mr. Sutton plus the many juniors who gave their time to make Prom something special. Committee heads in charge of decorations, publicity, and refreshments were Pat Marko, Diane Lynch, Kris Bell, and Marilyn Erskine.

"One Enchanted Evening"

1. Diane Lynch and Doug Austin share a moment alone. 2. Mitch Smith and Laurie Krauss relax from dancing. 3. "Fantasia" performs. 4. ## Jr./Sr. Banquet

The Junior Class honored the Senior Class at the Villa Venice on May 2. The Reverend Lawrence Pashak delivered opening and closing prayers at this dinner and awards banquet. Immediately following the baked chicken dinner, Diane Lynch addressed the seniors, and Lori Kricher, the juniors. After the banquet the juniors presented their advisors tokens of their appreciation. Mr. Adams received a pen and pencil set, and Mr. Sutton received a mug. Diane Lynch and Marilyn Erskine presented awards to members of the Senior Class. Those who received recognition were the following people:

"Handsomest Male" Bruce Bauer displays his charismatic smile. 8. Mr. Adams proudly holds up his pen and pencil set for all to see. 9. Ann Wolgast receives a trophy for having the "most imaginative locker."

Awards Assembly

Mr. Luebker was in charge of the annual Awards Assembly held on June 6. Awards of recognition were presented to students who excelled during the school year by members of the faculty and administration. Mr. Sheltraw recognized National Honor Society members, and Mrs. Shearer recognized scholarship winners. A highlight of the evening was a vocal presentation by sophomore Michele Spitz. The high school band and the 1977-78 pom pon squad also performed. Mr. Baumann presented John Marko with the school's two highest awards, the Arthur E. Turner Award, which is voted upon by the teachers, and the Principal's Award, which was just created this year. The Student Council bestowed a few special awards, also. Mr. Adams was named the recipient of the second annual "Teacher of the Year" Award, and Miss Murphy was given an engraved necklace in appreciation for her fine services to Hemlock High School. As a sign of appreciation for their advisor, the Student Council presented Mr. Baumann with an engraved pen and pencil set. Refreshments were served after the Awards Assembly by the F.H.A.

Nat'l Honor Society

The National Honor Society (N. H. S. ) recognizes the most important aspect of a school, academic excellence. Providing a quality education for students is the foremost objective of a school. Those who excel in school deserve recognition, and this is the purpose of the N. H. S. In Hemlock High School a student must meet three eligibility requirements before he can become an N. H. S. member. First, a student must maintain at least a 3.00 overall grade point average (g. p. a. ). Secondly, one is only eligible after his sophomore year, providing he has at least a 3.00 overall g. p. a. Finally, a prospective member has to have the recommendations of four teachers. Once a student becomes a member, it is his responsibility to maintain at least a 3.00 g. p. a. each marking period. The first time a student falls below a 3.00 g. p. a. he is given a letter of warning. The second time this happens one is automatically dropped from membership. At the end of their senior year, all N. H. S. members receive a gold-colored cord to be worn with their graduation gowns. The cords are symbolic of academic achievement. Seniors receive this honor at the Awards assembly. Mr. Sheltraw is the advisor of the N. H. S.

The Hemlock marching and concert bands had an excellent season under the direction of Mr. Gippert. The marching band went to band camp at Camp Lakeview in the fall to learn new half-time shows for the football season. The band competed in the Saginaw Fair Marching Band Contest in September and took a third place. The concert and marching bands both competed at the district Michigan State Band Orchestra Association Band Festival and received a second division rating. The concert band performed Christmas concerts for the high school and middle school, too. On April 10 the band held the Music Booster Auction, the proceeds of which were used to cover the cost of band camp. On May 12 and 13 the band put on their annual Spring Spectacular, a variety show. IN THE PICTURE AT RIGHT, band officers, STANDING (l. to r.), are Randy Ryder, treasurer; Janine Schmidt, secretary and colorguard captain; Loren Preuss, president; Steve Wilkowski, vice president and assistant drum major. ## F.F.A.

The aim of the Future Farmers of America (F. F. A. ) is to develop qualities of agricultural leadership, cooperation and citizenship in the individual. One of the F. F. A. yearly activities is participating in skill competitions with F. F. A. chapters from throughout the State. Our Hemlock chapter regularly sends delegates to State and national F. F. A. conventions. The delegates learn a great deal at these conventions. They bring back what they have experienced and share it with the other members. F. F. A. is not all work; there are plenty of recreational activities. In the past the F. F. A. has enjoyed hayrides, snowmobile parties, and many more exciting things. Meetings are held every other week in the agriculture room. Refreshments are always served after every meeting. For the past two years the F. F. A. has farmed the school's farm, the F. F. A. Land Lab, on Hemlock Road. The F. F. A. owns 55 acres and several pieces of equipment. The F. F. A. pays for its equipment through money made from seed and orange sales. On April 20 the F. F. A. held their annual Spring Banquet. Awards were presented, and new officers were installed. F. F. A. is advised by Mr. Hubbell, and membership is around 44 people.

F.H.A. Sews Their Splendor

F. H. A. members are (l. to r.) Debbie Samuel, Dawn Zastrow, Kathy Tessin, Kathi Hoepfner, Beth McFadden, Becky Pitt, Ann Letts, advisor Mrs. Dennis, Sarah Malone, Karen Parrish, and Denise Weil.

The purpose of the Future Homemakers of America (F. H. A. ) is to provide girls with domestic experience that will aid them as future wives and mothers. The Hemlock chapter of F. H. A. is under the guidance of Mrs. Dennis. To pay for regional and State F. H. A. dues, the F. H. A. participated in a cake-decorating class and sold decorated cupcakes at the middle school. In October the FHA and F. F. A. had a combined hayride. Afterwards they cooked hot dogs and caramel apples over a glowing bon fire. A roller skating party took place in November. In January an important project was planned: Girls seeking baby-sitting jobs were placed on a list that was made available to young mothers in the Hemlock community. Tobogganing was a winter activity organized for February, and in March the girls went bowling. A tea was held for past F. H. A. members in April. In May the annual Mother and Daughter Banquet was held, and new officers were installed. Closing the year in June, the F. H. A. went camping and sailing at Higgins Lake.

F. H. A. officers are (l. to r. ) Beth McFadden, president, Debbie Samuel, secretary; and Denise Weil, treasurer.

Photo Club Develops Into A Success

The Photography Club was a new organization this year. Miss Kossayda began the club in October, and meetings took place twice a month. Membership was open to any student interested in photography. While some members were more experienced in photography and had advanced equipment of their own, others were inexperienced and owned simple cameras such as Kodak Instamatics. The club spent much of its time devoted to instruction. They learned how to take pictures in many lighting situations, and how to develop and print pictures in the school's darkroom. At every meeting, members shared their pictures among each other. Next year Miss Kossayda hopes to have members get together with other photography clubs in the area.

The Business and Office Education Clubs (B. O. E. C. ) is a vocational youth organization sponsored by the Michigan Department of Education. Hemlock's B. O. E. C. members participated in the regional skill contest held in Flint on February 12. Hemlock regional champions were Brenda Roggow, Pat Marko, and John Marko. In addition, 18 other B. O. E. C. members took places. The winners of the regional competitions advanced to the State finals held in Southfield on March 13 and 14. Seven of Hemlock's team members placed there. Pat Marko scored the highest in Electric Typing I, capturing the B. O. E. C. State Championship. Bonita Roggow netted a State second place trophy in Verbal Communications I, and Kathy Bray earned a State third place trophy in a typing related event, Information Communications I. These three people advanced to national competition in Houston, Texas, in May, for a week of sun-filled pleasure. Pat took a 5th place win, missing the national championship by a mere two points. The Business Club students also displayed their talent at the Delta College "Skills' Day" held on March 19 by winning the coveted school trophy for having the most award winners. The Business Club held a spaghetti supper in the fall. Mr. Luebker is the advisor of B. O. E. C. , and Mr. Adams is his assistant.

Bowling is open to any student in Hemlock High School. The people who enjoy bowling go down to Crooked Creek Sports Center every Saturday morning and bowl. Bowling at H. H. S. is not an interscholastic sport. It is totally affiliated with the management of Crooked Creek. They place kids in teams of six. Bowling lasts until the end of March. Sally Cunningham, Laurie Johnson and Debbie Kreager represented the Crooked Creek girls at the State tournaments. They did very well.

Yearbook

This yearbook went up a little in price because of eight additional color pages. The staff began working on the yearbook in the second or third week of October. However, Miss Kossayda, the advisor; and the editors have worked on it since early August. The editors were Renee LaPorte, managing editor; John Marko, copy editor; and Pam Robinson, layout editor. In the summer they decided on such things as page design, theme, style of writing, and general content of the book. The yearbook photographers were Kathy Peak, Loren Preuss, and professionals Jerry Wolff and Barry Rankin. The yearbook involves a great deal of work. To produce a single page, a person can devote anywhere from eight to ten hours of time and more. The staff is divided into small sections that concentrate on specific areas--athletics, organizations, seniors, activities, academics, and advertising. Each of these sections is headed by a section editor. He is assisted by one or two people. Work sessions are held weekly in the art room after school. The cost of publishing the book is met by book sales and advertising.

ATHLETES GLITTER

Athletics is important to all of us at Hemlock High School. Sports are one of the star attractions for our school and community. This is our second year as a class B School in the tough Mid-Michigan B League Conference. We participate in a wide variety of sports. Traditional sports like football, baseball, and basketball have always been popular. Wrestling and girls' sports have started to attract more fans. Many more girls now actively take part in interscholastic sports, such as track, volleyball, basketball, skiing, and softball. All of our athletes know that it takes a vast amount of hard work and practice to be winners. That means many hours of lifting weights to be a good football player. Our track stars know, too, that to win meets requires running long miles every day. We have made a tradition of producing several All-State and All-American athletes every season. The Pep Club boosts the spirit of the teams and the fans. They get us in the mood with their catchy sayings. The cheerleaders and pom pon girls raise our spirit at basketball and football games and at pep assemblies. We all enjoy sports at H.H.S., whether we are on the field or in the stands. Our athletic program is the foundation of our school spirit.

The varsity football team's most memorable game this year pitted them against Alma. After having been beaten by them the previous year, the mighty Huskies returned to Alma and trounced them by a score of 20 to 7. Mich

Smith finished an outstanding year by making the MIDLAND DAILY NEWS All-Area Football Team. Joe Ojczyk was also named to the same paper's Honorable Memtion list.

The freshmen football team of 1976-77 got off to a good start by winning their first two games of the season. They shut out Merrill and Alma for these two victories. After this the team did not score very well. The boys have three more years ahead of them to perfect their skills and strategy.

The pom pon girls were a pleasure to watch this year. The seniors dominated the squad, but all of them did quite well in entertaining the folks during basketball and football half-times. The highlight for the girls was taking second place at the Pom Pon Clinic at Lindon High School. They came close to netting first, losing by only two points to Sts. Peter and Paul High School. At the end of each year the senior pom pon girls teach prospective pom pon girls a difficult routine. The girls are judged on their ability to learn and perform the routine. The scores are tabulated, and about fourteen girls are chosen.

Parents' Nights

Each year the athletes of several varsity sports honor their parents, usually at the last home game of the season. As the athlete's name and his parents' names are called, the player and his parents proceed onto the playing field, usually the gym floor or the football field. The athlete then presents his mother with a rose. Parents' night is an occasion to thank the parents of the players for supporting them throughout the season. Parents' night also gives the parents and coaches a chance to meet.

The varsity basketball team had an off season, winning only five games. Looking on the bright side, Coach Perryman commented that the boys improved greatly from the beginning of the season to the end. Their defense and offense were greatly improved even though they did not have the height that aids in making a good team. The most valuable player was Tony Warner.

J.V.'s Have Hazy Showing

The junior varsity basketball team ended the season with five wins and seven losses. Coach Schrottenboer remarked that the boys' improvements as individuals and as a team was one good highlight of the season. The boys started out at a slow pace, winning the first game but losing the next seven consecutive ones. One of the disappointments of the year was losing to Ovid-Elsie by only one point at the sound of the buzzer. One of the highlights was winning the second game against Alma, 48 to 47. The most valuable player was Bob Vukovich, and the most improved players were Dean Darby and Dan Redifer.

The girls varsity basketball team was the strongest squad Hemlock turned out since the sport began here. The girls worked extremely hard at practice but managed to have a good time. Their hard work did not go unrewarded, for they placed third in the conference with an over-all record of 11 wins and six losses. They beat the second-place team twice, but because of a slow start, they ended up with two extra losses.

One of the girls' most exciting games pitted them against Alma, who had beaten them before by a 33-point margin. The Panthers won, but only by three points in an exciting over-time game. The junior varsity team consisted mostly of freshmen.

It was a year of experience for this young team. Though they did not do very well this year, the future looks promising for them.

*Game was snowed out

The varsity and junior varsity volleyball teams came back this year to win a majority of their games. This was only the second year that Hemlock has had volleyball teams. The girls, using what they learned last year plus their new defense, won a few thrillers. The varsity, after being beaten by Alma in the first match, came back and gave a fight. They almost won except for the time limit set on the game. One of the junior varsity matches against St. John's was cancelled because of a severe snow storm. Coach McAlister remarked that we had improved, and that the next year would be an even better season than the last two.

We have many fine cheerleaders supporting our teams. The varsity cheerleaders did quite well by taking first place in the Dynamic Cheerleading Association Class B competition. From there they received an invitation to cheer at the North-West Shrine game at the Silverdome in Pontiac. The climax of the year came when the varsity squad took fourth place in State competition at Mount Pleasant. Something new this year was the division of the wrestling cheerleaders into junior varsity and varsity squads. All the cheerleaders worked hard to perfect cheers and to create comical skits for pep assemblies.

The varsity wrestling team had a winning season. Their over-all record was ten wins and four losses. Some highlights of the season were winning the Cadillac Invitational; defeating the six-time Mid Michigan B League champs, Ovid-Elsie, in a dual meet; and having Tim Buckley take fourth place at State competition. Ed Heath, Mike Kelley, Tim Buckley, and Ken Shepherd all went to regionals, and from there, Ken and Tim advanced to the State competition. The junior varsity team had a good turnout. Their record at the close of the season was ten wins and five losses.

The Pep Club is a small group of girls who paint spirit posters after school. The girls make all the signs taped around the school halls and lobby for all the sports, including the girls' sports. The girls meet at least twice a week, usually starting right after school. They often devote long hours to make the signs for our teams. Sometimes they make them individually, and other times they pool their ideas.

Star Batters Slug To Second Place

Seniors

The varsity baseball team tied for second place with two other schools, Chesaning and Swan Valley. The Huskies were in first place until they lost both games to Alma in a DOUBLEHEADER. The Huskies' over-all record was nine wins and five losses. In the hitting department Curt Varner led with four home runs and a .442 batting average in the league. Bob Fiting ended the season with a .409 average, and Tim Erskine, with a .383 average. Scott Raymond and Tim Erskine led in stolen bases with 12 and 11, respectively.

Mr. Adams coached his junior varsity baseball team onto a Mid-Michigan B League championship, tying with Alma. The only coach to do so this year, Mr. Adams seems to be building a dynasty of winning teams. Last year he captured the title, also. Dave Palmer was the outstanding player for the team, both on the mound and in the batter's box.

Sports Banquet

The All-Sports Banquet, on May 18, had quite a nice turnout. The high school Athletic Department, under the direction of Mr. Rick, sponsored this event. Dr. Robert Pratt of Saginaw Valley State College was the guest speaker. He gave his definition of what an athlete should be and some guide lines for becoming a better athlete and competitor. For the first time in Hemlock's history, a girl received the Bill Beagle Memorial Award, Jackie Oravitz. This award is for an average athlete who does well in several sports and always gives the team his best effort and support. The All-Sports Award is given to an athlete who participated in two or more sports and did extremely well in all of them.

Seniors Shimmer

"The ultimate high"; "No different than last year"; "Relief"; "Nothing too fantastic"; "It's kind of nice"; "I don't like it"; "Exciting"; "Not having to take any bull from anyone"; "Good, great, fantastic"; "Kind of lonely"; "There's a lot of pressure"; "I don't know, I haven't figured it out yet"--these are all quotes from seniors on what it is like to be a senior. We are, without doubt, in an envious position. All the lower classmen revere us. Being a senior is the goal of every student. This year has been one of mixed emotions. Through most of it, we have experienced "senioritis." This is a common malady that can be diagnosed as poor class attendance compounded with a superiority complex. "Senioritis" is easily cured. Most of us overcame it immediately after graduation. Nonetheless, it still vexed the teachers. As graduation neared, our feelings changed from gladness to sadness. During our four years of schooling, we came to love our teachers and peers, so it was only natural that we would find it difficult to part from them. In the years to come, we will always look upon our days at H. H. S. with endearment. Although we have ended secondary school, we are beginning a new life in the world as adults.

Class Of '77

The Senior Class has been moderately active this year. They were in charge of the concession stand during home football games. They sold everything from popcorn to bubble gum. The seniors sponsored a disc-jockey dance in December. A large and lively crowd showed up for this dance. The Class of '77 sold the much-in-demand Huskie sweatshirts during the winter. Off and on throughout the year, the seniors sold 'I'm a Huskie Fan' pep pins. For the first time, the Class of '77 put on a play. The biggest and most important event of the year was graduation. This entailed not only sitting through graduation night, but also ordering announcements and caps and gowns, taking senior pictures, and attending baccalaureate. It has been a marvelous four years for the seniors.

Hugo Gerber

Hugo thought Americans had a lot of personal liberties which unfortunately are misused. His favorite foods are steak, baked potatoes and banana splits. Hugo plans to be a teacher within the next two years.

Hemlock High School had five foreign exchange students. Hugo Gerber was a foreign exchange student from Thun, Switzerland. While he was in Hemlock he stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Roggow. He found the United States interesting because it is so much larger than his homeland. He likes to snow ski, run track and play Swiss handball. Our only female foreign exchange student this year was Mary Grace Jacinto. Mary Grace is an inhabitant of the Philippines. During her stay in Hemlock she lived with Mr. and Mrs. Larry Long. The thing she enjoyed most about America was making snow castles and skiing. While Grace was here she traveled extensively and was involved in most of our girls' sports. Our foreign exchange student from Berlin, Germany was Goetz Kassner. Goetz stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Birt Rogers in Hemlock. He enjoyed football and liked the idea of cheerleaders and pom pon girls because they do not have them where he lives. He came to America to study the American people and to get to know Americans better. Euflavio Donato is from Bello Horizomte in Brazil. He stayed with Gary and Hellen Ahens in the Pleasant Valley Estates Trailer Park. Edson Tavares is also from Brazil. He hails from Minas Gerais, Brazil and stayed with the Dennis Meyette family in Hemlock.

Grace Jacinto

Grace felt America was a free and casual country, and she enjoyed it tremendously. Her favorite foods consist of steak and ice cream. She hopes and plans to be an ambassador one day.

Goetz Kassner

Goetz liked America very much, but like every country, he felt America has her faults, too. His favorite foods are hamburgers and hotdogs. Goetz's goal in life is to study medicine or to be a social worker.

Euflavio Donato Edson Tavares

Edson Tavares and Euflavio Donato were both active on the Hemlock track team. Edson replied that he loved it here and wished he could make America his home. Both Edson and Euflavio agreed it was a new experience from their home in Brazil.

Senior Trip . . . A Golden Event

On June 2 the Senior Class went to Cedar Point in Sandusky, Ohio for their class trip. Everyone had to meet at the high school at 4:45 A.M., because the buses left at 5:00 A.M. sharp. The morning was cloudy, and the temperature was low. After four and a half hours of driving, the buses pulled into Cedar Point. There brave students rode rides such as the "Corkscrew," the "Witch's Wheel," and the "Jumbo Jet". For the not-so-brave, there were sideshows and funhouses. Many people played games of chance. At 8:00 P.M. the exhausted and chilled students dragged themselves into the warm buses and started back home.

Baccalaureate Inspires New Dreams

Baccalaureate for the 1977 Senior Class was on Sunday, June 5, at 8:00 P.M. The students marched into a half-empty gym and waited nervously for the Reverend Terry W. Allen to give the invocation. The United Methodist Church choir sang some beautiful hymns during the service. Then the Reverend Mr. Allen delivered an inspiring speech that sent confidence surging through everyone. He reminded the seniors of the importance of having goals in life. Only by having goals can people live up to God's expectations of them. The Reverend Allen gave the benediction, and the seniors filed out of the gym.

1. Bill Haven, Vicki Rosa, Dan Baase, and Jill Forrest get a bird's-eye view of Cedar Point from the ferris wheel. 2. Kathy Peak, Lynette McKibbin, and Robin Wade get locked in the stocks for their infamous crimes. 3. Jeanine Morse is irritated by the photographer for catching her shopping. 4. Kerri Walter seems to be telling Peggy Reimer, "You took my last french fry". 5. Steve Miller, Harold Thorington, Katie Jerome, and Shelly Wallaert stroll down the midway. 6. The Reverend Mr. Allen addresses the seniors.

Graduation . . .

The commencement for the 1977 graduating class was on Friday, June 10, 1977, at 8:00 P.M. The "grads" filed slowly into the gym that was filled beyond capacity. The Reverend Leaman W. Carey delivered the invocation. Mr. Blue, one of the Senior Class advisors, introduced the salutatorian, John Marko. John's speech summarized many of the memorable times that the seniors experienced in their four years of high school. The other Senior Class advisor, Mr. Freeland, introduced the valedictorian, Randy Ryder. Randy had everyone relive the care-free, but foggy, elementary school days in his speech. Then the Senior Class president, Lori Kricher, read the roll call of seniors as they accepted their diplomas from Wilferd Wardin, the president of the Board of Education. The high school band traditionally played "Pomp and Circumstance" as the seniors proudly strolled out of the gym. As the last of the seniors exited through the door, the band played Hemlock's school song. In the crowded hallway afterward, there were people crying for happiness-- or was it sadness? Graduation was a big milestone in the seniors' lives, but as the Senior Class motto states, "Every day is a new beginning . . ."

A Grand Finale

1. Wanda Claxton and Carol Burdo reflect the serious side of graduation. 2. Paul Stadnikia is a bit taller than Mr. Wardin. 3. Pam Rohn says, "Yes, I've finally made it." 4. The Reverend Mr. Carey leads everyone in prayer. 5. Denise Nuffer thinks about four years of high school. 6. Randy Ryder proudly gives his valedictory. 7. John Marko bears a sober face as he proceeds into the gym. 8. Lori Kricher enthusiastically calls the seniors' names. 9. Lisa Durfee, Vicki Rosa, Dawn Liebrock, Brenda Wardin, and Luann Gorney rejoice after the ceremony. 10. Renee LaPorte gets her long-awaited diploma.

Seniors . . .

Go Out With A Glimmer

1. Denise Nuffer and Sue Oldenburg snack at Cedar Point. 2. Julie Boyd rolls into convulsions of laughter. 3. These seniors have "kicked the habit" of high school. 4. Tony Warner, Lela Mulvaney, and Lori Kricher stop to have their picture taken at Cedar Point. 5. Terri Slick and Peggy Cook imitate their monkey ancestor behind them. 6. Seniors risk riding the stubborn donkeys as Tony Warner proves.

Star Editors Have The Last Word

Throughout our four years we have collected many memories. We will cherish some of these memories more than others, and some we will forget in years to come. That is why there are yearbooks to record those memories for us. I have many memories of working on the yearbook: the mad rush to meet deadlines, the hard work to revise layouts, the fun of looking through piles of pictures, the times when we wondered if we would ever get done, the patience and helping hand of Miss Kossayda, the relieved feeling of finally having the yearbook finished, and countless more. Some of these memories, I am sure, will fade, but they will come flowing back when I look through the yearbook. I would like to thank all the staff members, Miss Kossayda, and especially all of you . . . for the memories.

Pam

Follow your dream
Wherever it leads-
Don't be distracted
By less worthy needs . . .
Shelter it, nourish it,
Help it to grow
Let your heart hold it down deep
Where your dreams go.

Follow your dream
Pursue it with haste;
Life is too precious
Too fleeting to waste . . .
Then all your life through
The dreams that you follow
Will keep coming true.

I did not write this poem, but I feel there is a great message in it. We seniors are ending a part of our lives, and each of us has dreams and goals for ourselves. If we do not try to follow these dreams and accomplish these goals, then we are not living up to our potentials. Now we have a past. May our futures be full of achieved dreams.

Working on the yearbook staff has been riotous! In my position as copy editor, I have had the unenviable task of editing all the writing in this book, besides writing many articles, also. As one would expect, I have not been immune from the wrath of the staff. I still chuckle every time I think about how Julie Boyd and I battled over the tritest things. Surely this fine literary and pictorial end product justified my harsh means. Doubtless, there probably are a FEW grammatical errors that slipped by my eye, but then we cannot all hope to be as "perfect" as Mrs. Thering, I hope this yearbook gives you many hours of pleasure.
